

Communication with Staff Members

Staff may never use personal devices to communicate directly with a single Club member. Proper protocol dictates that all communication between staff and Club members must include an additional staff member or at least two Club members. This also includes overnight events such as Keystone Conferences and Youth of the Year events.

